With over 6 years of experience in live-action productions, commercials, and music videos I primarily work with Nuke and specialise in photorealistic compositing, ensuring seamless and believable visual effects integration. Over the years, I have collaborated on various projects and with different studios, which has given me versatility and the ability to adapt quickly to new productions and teams.

Working remotely has provided me with strong assertive communication skills but I am keen to gain more experience in an on-site environment. I consider myself a highly responsible person and detail-oriented with a team-oriented mentality. I am committed to take and implement feedback with a positive attitude, delivering high-quality results.

I enjoy collaborating with colleagues, learning from other professionals, and taking on creative challenges that allow me to keep growing in my career.
